Peter Gets Lost

Peter looks here and there. He looks towards the gate and then towards the bench. "Where is Mommy?" he asks himself.

He had come to a park with his Mommy. His mother sat on the bench where as he went to play on the swings. Now, when he returned, he could not see his mother anywhere.

He felt like crying. This was the first time he had ever been lost. "What shall I do?" he thought.

He saw a policeman standing near the gate and went to him. The policeman took him to the police station and asked him his name and contact details.

In a few minutes, his mother reached to take him. Peter gave her a big hug. He was so happy to see her! He vowed never to let go of his Mommy's hands again.
