

Using has and have correctly

Worksheet 5

Have and has both show possession. When to use have and has depend on the subject (he, she, it (has)) (I, they, we (have)). You can also use has for something that has happened or is still happening.

Circle the word that best completes the sentence.

1. The wedding gown has/have been taken home.
2. We has/have to be at the banquet hall by noon.
3. I has/have walked two miles today.
4. She has/have to have a shot today.
5. Sean has/have to have help lifting the boxes.
6. Amy will has/have a new student soon.
7. The teachers has/have separate classrooms.
8. The fire has/have gone out.
9. The dragon has/have claws on each foot.
10. A green cow has/have never been found.
11. The book has/have 500 pages.
12. Will you has/have the picture finished by then?
13. Did they has/have a good time at the pool?
14. My phone has/have not stopped ringing.
15. The paint has/have already been mixed up.

Answer Sheet

1. The wedding gown has/have been taken home.
2. We has/have to be at the banquet hall by noon.
3. I has/have walked two miles today.
4. She has/have to have a shot today.
5. Sean has/have to have help lifting the boxes.
6. Amy will has/have a new student soon.
7. The teachers has/have separate classrooms.
8. The fire has/have gone out.
9. The dragon has/have claws on each foot.
10. A green cow has/have never been found.
11. The book has/have 500 pages.
12. Will you has/have the picture finished by then?
13. Did they has/have a good time at the pool?
14. My phone has/have not stopped ringing.
15. The paint has/have already been mixed up.